

With all our hearts and mouths

SAATB Chorus

English Text

Thomas Tallis (circa 1505-1585)

Engraved by Francis Markey

Soprano
With all our hearts and mouths we confess, praise and bless

Alto I
With all our hearts and mouths we confess,

Alto II
With all our hearts and

Tenor
With all

Bass

S thee, bless thee, with all our

A I
- praise and bless thee, praise and bless thee, with

A II
mouths we confess, praise and bless thee, praise

T
- our hearts and mouths we confess, praise and bless thee, praise

B
With all our hearts and mouths we confess, praise and

The music for this anthem is closely similar to that for Tallis' Salvator mundi, although the English text is not a translation of the Latin and is even of a different character (a song of praise in contrast to the supplicatory Salvator mundi). The English version appeared in a publication from 1641.